Advanced Training that Empowers Speakers and Inspires Attendees

Delivering exceptional event experiences and innovation are the cornerstone of our success. That's why when AOSSM 2020-21 President Michael G. Ciccotti, MD approached us to help him deliver his Presidential Address with skilled precision, ease and confidence at this year's AOSSM and AANA combined Annual Meeting, our team was eager to support.

As Dr. Ciccotti will attest, what makes an event truly memorable are the quality interactions, personal exchanges, and overall engagement - and that comes with careful planning, preparation and training. Our dedicated and experienced AV technical support professionals worked closely with Dr. Ciccotti to familiarize and train him on how to effectively work with a teleprompter so that each one of his highly visible speaking engagements were delivered flawlessly and exuberantly.

Inspire speaker and attendee confidence with our extensive range of amenities and equipment, including:
